Form of New Government Not Determined But Forecasts Indicate Prince Lvoff May Be President of New Republic--People Seem Scarcely to Understand Importance of What Has Occurred--Answer of Soldiers in the Field to New Order of Things is Awaited With Great Interest

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
London, March 17.—The Nya Dagligt Allehanda of Stockholm is quoted in an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from that city in a telegram from Haparanda that Emperor Nicholas is now being held prisoner and that the empress has been sent to Kiev.

According to this report, Emperor Nicholas is being held in the Tauride Palace (the house of parliament). The Social Demokraten of Stockholm says M. Goltzine, the deposed Russian premier, has committed suicide in prison.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
London, March 17.—Grand Duke Michael has accepted the throne of Russia, conditioned on the consent of the people, according to a statement received here today from the semi-official Russian news agency.

Reuters Petrograd correspondent telegraphing under Friday's date, says: "The city is now controlled by committees formed of garrison and civilian representatives under the presidency of the commandant of the fourth guard corps."

A dispatch received direct from Petrograd last night filed at 5:30 p. m. Petrograd time, says that Emperor Nicholas had abdicated in favor of Grand Duke Michael and that at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon the Grand Duke himself had abdicated, thus bringing the Romanoff dynasty to an end. The foregoing dispatch which is from the Petrograd telegraphic agency, a semi-official institution was sent from Petrograd today.

Advices direct from Petrograd yesterday said there had been some differences of opinion between the duma leaders and the representatives of the workmen. The latter wished to leave undecided the question of form of the Russian government until after the holding of a constitutional assembly, whereas the duma group, fearing dangers to the country in the absence of a definite government, had put forward the program or a regency under the grand duke. The qualifications which Michael is reported to have placed on his acceptance of the throne indicate that it has been decided to erect a temporary central authority so that there may be no diversion of the country's energies in prosecuting the war but that at the same time the ultimate decision has been left with the people.

400-YEAR REIGN ENDS.
(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Petrograd, March 16, via London.
March 17.—The autocracy which has held Russia in its grip since the beginning of history fell today. The house of Romanoff, which has ruled the empire for 400 years, came to an end with the abdication of Nicholas II, perhaps the weakest representative of his line. Following on the heels of this startling development came the rumor tonight of the death of the little son of the emperor, whose abdication was included in that of his father.

Although apparent from the beginning of the revolution that the removal of the monarch was the inevitable end, the actual fact, so suddenly accomplished, came as an overwhelming surprise to the population. Within four hours after the abdication of the Grand Duke Michael, who automatically became regent on the passing of the emperor, the crowds in the streets had secured ladders and began to tear the imperial insignia from the winter palace and the front of buildings on the main thoroughfares. In a short time all the emblems of the old empire literally lay in the dust. Just what form the new government will assume is indefinite tonight.

For the moment entire authority rests with the 12 members of the duma executive committee and the cabinet headed by Prince Lvoff, who, according to some forecasts, will be president of a new republic. It is believed that in the interim and until the convocation of a constitutional assembly, power will slowly pass into the hands of the new cabinet, which will then present the anomaly of a new government without a supreme head.

The differences which threatened yesterday to create a serious split between the duma committee and the committee of working men, soldiers and deputies have automatically disappeared since, with the abdication of Grand Duke Michael as regent, the question whether Russia

Brotherhood Members Seek To Enjoin Strike

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Philadelphia, March 17.—A bill in equity which has for its purpose the prevention of the four railroad brotherhoods from calling a strike of railroad employees within the state of Pennsylvania was filed in the federal district court at noon today by an attorney representing members of the brotherhoods. No judge was in the federal building at the time although the bill is officially on file it will not have the effect of preventing a walk out unless the papers are signed by a judge and an order issued enjoining the men.

Leighton P. Stradley, attorney for the men who filed the bill said the action "would take its usual course." He apparently is making no effort to find a judge.

The action is against the local chairman and chairman of their general grievance committee. The action affects the brotherhoods on all railroads throughout Pennsylvania. According to the trainmen they believe that not more than 10 per cent. are in favor of walking out. The bill alleges that the joint ballot upon which the strike was called is not in effect at this time inasmuch as it was obtained eight months ago when times were not at the critical stage they are today. This strike ballot obtained eight months ago was cancelled last fall when the Adamson law was enacted, the bill asserts.

Complaints in this action alleges that a refusal to arbitrate by the grand chiefs is contrary to the constitution and by-laws of the brotherhoods. The ballot was obtained last summer, the bill of complaints says, by arbitrary action of the chief executives of the unions and without complying with the by-laws. The bills in equity are signed by one member from each of the four brotherhoods.

eral were reported to be in conference at Dayton where both maintain their residences. Secretary Morris announced that no political appointment would be made for the present until the railroad crisis has passed. Morris said the governor had received the resignation of Lawrence K. Langdon, as a member of the public utilities commission but would defer appointment of his successor for the present.

Just when the governor plans to call out the troops and place the state under martial law in event of a railroad strike was not indicated by the governor except in his statement of yesterday in which he announced his purpose to do this in case of the strike threatened a food shortage.

PENNSY BRANCH TRAINMEN BUCK ON STRIKE ORDER

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Columbus, March 17.—Engineers, conductors and trainmen of the Cincinnati, Lebanon and Northern railroad, a subsidiary company of the Pennsylvania railroad, this morning informed General Superintendent I. W. Geer, of the southwest system of the Pennsylvania that they would refuse to obey the strike order.

The information was given out by the general superintendent's office in this city. According to the superintendent's office, a delegation of railroad employees said they had been authorized by their associates to make the move and inform the general superintendent.

NEITHER SIDE MAKES GUESS ON OUTCOME

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Chicago, March 17.—Unless the unexpected intervenes, the greatest railroad strike in the history of the world will send St. Patrick's Day, 1917 down in history with a significance hitherto unattached to the occasion.

At 6 o'clock tonight the first steps destined, unless checked, to paralyze the commerce of the country are to be taken by the 400,000 members of the brotherhoods of train service employees to attain, as the unions claim, the eight-hour day in train service. According to the railroad managers, it is a flat stand-and-deliver order for more pay amounting in the aggregate to millions of dollars—a burden which they claim is too great to be borne out of present revenues.

The situation confronting the country is so big and so unusual that no one has been able confidently to predict just what it will do, or how many men will be working tomorrow, or what trains they can run; the brotherhoods do not know how many will obey the strike order.

GOVERNOR OF FINLAND HELD UNDER ORDERS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
London, March 17.—Major-General Zein, governor-general of Finland, has been arrested by the commander of the Baltic fleet on the order of the provisional government, according to a Reuters Petrograd dispatch. Senator Borovitinoff, vice president of the economic department of the Finnish senate, has also been arrested.

F. I. Rodicheff, leader of the constitutional democrats in the duma, has been appointed minister for Finland and directed to proceed at once to Helsinki.

ASKS THROUS SUPPORT.
Haparanda, Sweden, March 17, via London.—General Ignatoff, commanding the troops in Finland, has issued a proclamation extorting the troops to support the new government.

RIVER IS STATIONARY
Cincinnati, March 17.—The Ohio river came to a standstill early today at a stage of 56 feet. Despite this fact three railroads using the Union station announced that they would abandon it at noon today. The reason given was the inability of the switchmen to throw the switches which were under water.

Late Parley Brings a Two-Day Truce In Railroad Strike

Secretary Lane Announced That a 24 Hour Delay Had Been Secured by Conference With Brotherhood Chiefs Late This Afternoon.

NEGOTIATIONS WILL BE RESUMED IMMEDIATELY

Mediators Conferred Greater Part of Night With the Brotherhoods and Railroad Managers Without Coming to Any Agreement—Railroad Companies Carry Forward Plans For Housing and Feeding Employees Who Remain Loyal and Those Who May Be Employed to Take Place of Strikers

New York, March 17.—Secretary Lane of the federal mediation committee announced at 3:45 o'clock that it had been agreed to postpone the railroad strike for 48 hours.

He gave out the following statement: "At our request and out of an appreciation of the national situation the brotherhoods and the railroad managers have resumed negotiations. In the hope that some adjustment may be had that will avoid the necessity for a strike the brotherhoods have wired or telephoned their general chairman that all action be postponed for 48 hours, and unless, prior to that time, advised of a settlement, the men will leave the service under the authority already given."

The statement is signed by Secretary Franklin K. Lane, Secretary William B. Watson and Daniel Willard, three of the four mediators. Samuel Gompers, the fourth mediator did not participate in the conference at any time.

A joint conference between the mediators, the brotherhood chiefs and the railroad managers will be held at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning when negotiations for a settlement will be resumed. The 48-hour postponement dates from 7 o'clock tonight eastern time, the hour at which the strike was to have gone into effect.

"Undoubtedly there is hope," said Mr. Lane when asked his opinion of the situation. "We will meet here at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning and will then take up the situation and go on as we have been going."

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
New York, March 17.—The prospect that the great railroad strike due to be inaugurated within a few hours would be prevented, or at least that a truce would be declared, brightened this afternoon when shortly before 2:00 o'clock Secretary Lane, member of the mediation committee of the council of national defense announced that the situation was encouraging.

Mr. Lane said he would have an important statement to make at 3:00 o'clock. The announcement came soon after the mediation committee had finished a three hours' conference with the brotherhood chiefs of railroad employees. At about the same time the committee of railway managers was summoned to the hotel where the mediation committee had been in conference with the brotherhood leaders.

Whether a joint conference of both sides of the controversy was planned or whether the mediation committee would confer with the managers alone could not be definitely learned. Newspaper men were barred by hotel employees from approaching the rooms where the activities were going on and there were conflicting reports as to precisely what the next step in the negotiations would be.

There was reason to believe, however, that Secretary Lane had a concrete proposal for submission to the railroad managers which he expected to meet with their approval. This proposal, it was reported, has already been communicated informally.

should remain an empire or compel its antiquated government to yield to a new republic is now solved. BAPAUME NOW IN THE HANDS OF THE BRITISH London, March 17.—Bapaume on the Franco-Belgian front has been captured by the British, Reuters agency announces.

The correspondent at British headquarters in France telegraphs that the towns of Le Transloy and Achiet-Le-Petit also are reported to be in the hands of the British.

Our troops entered Bapaume this morning after stiff fighting," Reuters' correspondent telegraphs. "The place was in flames, the Germans having evidently made all plans for setting fire to it when forced to retreat."

"Our troops are reported to be beyond the town." The fall of Bapaume had been anticipated for some time and the capture of Achiet Le Petit and Le Transloy were looked upon as a necessary consequence of that event.

Details of the operations with the number of prisoners and the amount of booty taken anxiously are awaited.

ally to the managers and had met with unofficial approval.

A sub-committee of the railroad managers went into conference shortly after 2:30 o'clock with the mediators and the brotherhood chiefs.

The joint conference was agreed upon after separate consultations by Daniel Willard of the mediation committee with both sides. The fact that both sides had at last been brought together by the mediators was considered a hopeful sign.

Secretary Lane announced at 3 o'clock that the situation was not yet such that he could make a statement.

Secretary Lane after coming out of the conference room to make his announcement returned after indicating that he would not be heard from again until he had something definite to say. At that time the hour for the strike to go into effect was only four hours away and it was recognized that if an agreement was reached to prevent it, quick action would be necessary by the brotherhood chiefs to call it off.

The conference adjourned at 3:25 o'clock. W. G. Lee for the brotherhood when asked what had been the result said:

"The conference is off for the present."

For more than six hours until 3:40 o'clock this morning the committee from the council of national defense labored with the railroad managers and the brotherhood chiefs without finding a way to prevent the national railroad strike called for 7:00 o'clock tonight. Hope of a settlement was not abandoned, however, for the mediators continued their efforts a few hours later. It is probable that these peace conferences will continue all day.

When the night session ended at the Hotel Biltmore none of the wearied conferees would discuss the situation. The only announcement that came from Secretary Wilson of the department of labor who said that the mediators would meet the brotherhood representatives again at 9:30 o'clock today and the railroad managers at 11:00 o'clock.

The committee from the council of national defense sent from Washington by President Wilson consists of Secretary Lane of the department of the interior, Secretary of Labor Wilson, Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor and Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad. Mr. Gompers did not take part in last night's conference and his whereabouts could not be discovered.

The mediators began their labors at 9:00 o'clock with the arrival of Secretary Lane. Mr. Willard had reached New York earlier in the evening and Secretary Wilson joined them at 10:30. The first session was with the leaders of the railroad brotherhoods. They declared they had come here with no definite plans and with no commands. As Secretary Lane expressed it, "I have not come here with a club in my hand, but to listen and to investigate."

At 1:15 a. m. the railroad managers who had been waiting in their quarters at the Grand Central terminal were called into the conference. The meeting of the representatives of employers and employees lasted barely half an hour. Before 2:00 o'clock the brotherhood men left the room and it is believed began a conference of their own which lasted well toward daylight. The managers remained with the mediators until 2:40 a. m.

It is understood that the council of national defense committee appealed to both sides on the ground of patriotism and urged them to avert the strike on the ground that at such a time as this it would be a national calamity. There were rumors that the brotherhood might be asked to accept the terms of the switchmen's award which would give the men nine hours' pay for eight hours' work instead of the ten hours' pay provided by the Adamson law. No inkling of what transpired in the conference room, however, came from any of those present.

In preparation for the strike all the big railroads have issued embargo orders on freight. The New Haven announced that beginning tonight all sleeping and dining car service would be discontinued unless meanwhile the strike was declared off.

Most of the railroads announced that efforts will be made to continue the movement of food and fuel. Commissioner Hartigan, of the bureau of weights and measures, announced that the railroads believed they would be able to run enough trains to prevent any actual suffering in New York City.

GOVERNMENT PLANS TO ACT.
(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, March 17.—Government agencies were at work today on eleven hour plans for preventing a disastrous tie-up of railroad transportation, even if President Wilson's appeal and the mediation efforts of the council of national defense should fail to avert the strike called for tonight. The government's authority to prevent physical obstruction by strikers of interstate commerce or mail transmission was clear, and legal officers searched further for laws or precedents which might point to the President's right to force operation of railroads in an emergency.

The President heard this morning of the all night session of the railroad executives and brotherhood leaders with the committee of the defense council in New York, and was still confident that the strike orders would be cancelled before night. His view of the seriousness of a strike was indicated by a portion of his appeal sent to railroad executives and union officials, saying:

"A general interruption of the railway traffic of the country at this time would entail a danger to the nation against which I have the right to enter my most solemn and earnest protest."

When congress convenes in extra session next month President Wilson plans to renew his recommendations for railway legislation which failed at the last session.

Mr. Wilson has not begun preparation of his address to congress because it will depend largely upon the status of the international situation which is expected to be the chief subject.

READY FOR WALKOUT.
(Associated Press Telegram)
Cleveland, March 17.—Unless instructions are received from the four brotherhood chiefs in New York plans are all made to put the railroad strike order into effect in this section tonight on the B. and O., the Nickel Plate and the New York Central lines, including the old Lake Shore, the Big Four, Lake Erie and Western, Pittsburgh and Lake Erie, Indiana Harbor Belt line and Chicago, Indiana and Southern.

To avoid international complications the Michigan Central system, running into Canada and part of the New York Central lines, is not included and no strike is contemplated on the Michigan Central lines at present.

TO USE SHORT CREWS.
(Associated Press Telegram)
Chicago, March 17.—Officials of western railroads while awaiting the outcome of the conferences in New York between the mediation committee named by the council of national defense and the chiefs of the four brotherhoods and the national conference committee of railroad managers continued preparations today to keep their lines in operation should the strike occur as scheduled at 6 o'clock tonight (central time.)

An embargo has been placed on freight by practically every western railroad, though officials announce that special efforts will be made to move food stuffs with as little delay as possible in the event of a strike.

In the switching yards of this city, which are the connecting link between the east and the west and in St. Louis, where the strike has been called for tonight, preparations have been made to handle business with short crews.

BELIEVE MEN LOYAL.
(Associated Press Telegram)
Philadelphia, March 17.—Preparations to cope with the threatened strike were completed today by the railroads in this city. Officials of both the Pennsylvania and the Reading roads expressed confidence that the majority of their men would remain loyal and that the operation of neither freight nor passenger service would be seriously hampered. The Reading officials predict that their freight service will be operated up to 75 per cent. and their passenger service up to 90 per cent. of normal.

Embargoes on all freight except foodstuffs, government shipments and newspaper paper were placed by the Pennsylvania "as a precautionary measure."

GUARD RAILROAD PROPERTY.
(Associated Press Telegram)
Detroit, March 17.—With embargoes on all classes of freight shipments and strike guards engaged to protect their property the railroads of Michigan today had virtually completed preparations to meet the threatened strike of their employees. The Michigan Central, the first road to engage guards, intended to place them at the local terminal to guard the tunnel leading to the Detroit river to the Canadian side.

WILL CRIPPLE STEEL INDUSTRY.
Pittsburgh, March 17.—Pittsburgh will be one of the centers from which the threatened railroad strike will be directed, according to an announcement made today at the local headquarters of the railroad brotherhoods. Officers of the four brotherhoods will come to Pittsburgh tomorrow to attend a meeting of employees of all railroads east and west of this city. Two brotherhood officers, it is announced, will remain here to direct activities.

Should efforts to avert the strike fail, the Pittsburgh district will feel the first effects at 7 o'clock tonight when employees of the Baltimore and Ohio and the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie railroads are scheduled to walk out. The complete tie up in transportation in event of a strike, however, will not come until Tuesday morning when it is said the employees of the Pennsylvania railroad will leave their work.

It is estimated that 50,000 men in the Pittsburgh district will be affected by the general walkout and the effect on the steel industry can scarcely be conceived. The city has less than a ten days' supply of food stuffs according to produce dealers and grocers.

LODGING HOUSE FIRE CLAIMS FOUR DEAD.
(Associated Press Telegram)

NEW WORLD RECORDS SET IN A. B. C. TOURNEY.
Grand Rapids, Mich., March 17.—Two world records were set by the Birk Brothers of the Windy City League of Chicago on the late shift of the American Bowling Congress tournament last night when they counted 3,951 for higher series, winding up with 1,102 for the best high game ever made. The other games were 1015 and 944. The former record for a national championship total was 3,096 of the Florida Knispels of St. Paul, made at Toledo in 1912. No club ever passed the 1100 line in a national meet before. The deposed leaders were Billy Millers Haherdashers of Detroit who posted 2,977 on the night before.

ZEPPELIN AND CREW IS SHOT DOWN BY FRENCH

Paris, March 17.—A Zeppelin has been shot down in flames near Compiègne. All of its crew were lost.

The Zeppelin was sighted shortly before dawn and was reached by French anti-aircraft guns at a great height, probably three miles. The airship caught fire and the wreckage, with the burned bodies of the crew fell outside Compiègne.

Compiègne is 45 miles northeast of Paris and is close to the battle front, which the Zeppelin had presumably crossed.

New York, March 17.—Two attempts were made to sink the White Star line passenger steamer Lapland on her last outward voyage from this port, beginning Feb. 14, according to officers of the ship which arrived here today from Liverpool.

The first attempt occurred just off the Irish coast when a submarine that appeared in the ship's path was sunk by a patrol boat. The second attempt, a few hours later, was near the mouth of the Mersey river, when a torpedo was observed passing the Lapland's bow.

Boston, March 17.—A bomb exploded in the Suffolk county court house late yesterday, killing two men and injuring another.

One of the dead was Louis A. Ziegler, a janitor employed in the building. The other, unidentified to a late hour tonight, was believed by the police to have been the bearer of the explosive.

The object of the bomb carrier is uncertain. Authorities indicate that the plot might have been directed against Judge Wm. A. Loring whose court was in session 25 feet away. The explosion was premature.

GRAND DUKE QUILTS

place in the most fervent dreams of its discontented people.

It was the general conviction when the revolution began it had been provoked by the government working through the medium of the police, and that the government had decided upon this daring expedient as the means of completing its previous efforts to tie up the industrial activity of the country and bring the war operations to a complete standstill. But the force which set in motion and which first appeared easy to control, drawing to itself all the discordant elements of the country which were awaiting an opportunity to revolt soon became so tremendous that it was impossible to hold.

So swiftly, unexpectedly and completely did the great change come that the people are almost dazed and seem scarcely able to understand what has occurred. Inured through centuries to the grinding oppression of autocratic rule and regarding freedom as a glorious thing which would forever remain a dream, the people seemed disposed to regard their liberation as almost a temporary right which must soon give way to the ancient law of imperial will.

The reception of the new manifesto at army headquarters is awaited with the greatest anxiety for it is known that unless it is favorably met by the six million men at the front the new regime cannot endure. There is no reason to suppose that the soldiers and civilians in Petrograd and the revolution and partial ignorance of the conditions which brought it about may affect them. But since upon their acceptance hinges the fate of the new republic their answer is being breathlessly anticipated. With them rests the decision whether Russia shall build up a new government on a prepared foundation or be plunged into further disorder.

The following is the text of the imperial manifesto in which the Russian emperor announced his abdication and that of his son.

"We, Nicholas II, by the grace of God, emperor of all the Russias, Czar of Poland and Grand Duke of Finland, etc., etc., make known to all our faithful subjects. In the day of the great struggle against a foreign foe who had been striving for three years to enslave our country, God has wished to send to Russia a new and painful trial. Interior repression on the final outcome of the war. The destinies of Russia and the honor of our heroic army, the happiness of the people in the future of our dear fatherland require that the war be prosecuted at all cost to a victorious end. The cruel enemy is making his last effort and the moment is near when our valiant army, in concert with those of our glorious allies, will definitely chastise the foe.

"In these decisive days in the life of Russia we believe our people should have the closest union and organization of all their forces for the realization of speedy victory. For this reason, in accord with the duties of the empire, we have considered it desirable to abdicate the throne of Russia and lay aside our supreme power. Not wishing to be separated from our loved son we leave our heritage to our brother, the Grand Duke Michael Alexandrovich, blessing his advent to the throne of Russia. May God aid Russia."

Easy Way to Get Rid of Itching

Don't worry any more about that itching skin-trouble. Just get a jar of resinol ointment and a cake of resinol soap at any drug store. With the resinol soap and warm water bathe the affected parts thoroughly, until they are free from crusts and the skin is softened. Dry very gently, spread on a thin layer of the resinol ointment, and cover with a light bandage if necessary to protect the clothing. This should be done twice a day. Usually the distressing itching and burning stop with the first treatment, and the skin soon becomes clear and healthy again.

Choosing Your Shampoo Soap

If you select a soap that contains soothing healing properties like the resinol balsam in resinol soap, you are not likely to have trouble with dandruff, loss of hair or itching scalp. Ideal for the youngsters' heads.

HAVE COLOR IN YOUR CHEEKS

Be Better Looking—Take Olive Tablets

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite lazy—you have a bad taste in your mouth—a lazy, no-good feeling—you should take Olive Tablets.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a substitute for calomel—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 17 years of study with his patients.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color.

To have a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days you must get at the cause.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like calomel—yet have no dangerous after effects.

They start the bile and overcome constipation. That's why millions of boxes are sold annually at 10c and 25c per box. All druggists. Take one or two nightly and note the pleasing results.

The Auditorium drew capacity crowds yesterday to the showing of the super deluxe feature "The Price of Silence" with that great screen star William Farnum. The Price of Silence is a powerful story of love and renunciation woven into a theme of burning public interest—Child Slavery. What "Uncle Tom's Cabin" did for the Negro Slave, William Fox's "The Price of Silence" will do for the child slave.
The last showings of this wonderful feature will be given today and all should take advantage of one of the performances. Tomorrow Mr. Fenberg believes he has arranged one of the biggest and best programs of the season. Three notable features comical cartoon—that is said to be full of laughs from the start to finish of this reel. The soloist for tomorrow is none other than the Melba of The American Wheel Shows, Miss Louise Wolfe, Prima Donna of "The Girls of The Follies" Co. who will be heard in a selected repertoire of the latest New York song hits. The Orchestra under the direction of Guy Risher have prepared a specially arranged popular program.

"Girls From The Follies"

The smashing popular show "Girls From The Follies" will be the Auditorium theatre Wheel offering for next Monday, commencing with the matinee.

It has been Managers Strouse and Franklin's intention to place before the public an entertainment entirely different in its general construction from that of similar attractions and

The electrical and mechanical effects throughout are of the highest standard so there has been absolutely nothing left undone to make this organization the foremost in the calibre of entertainment. Ladies as usual will be admitted to the Monday matinee at bargain prices and it sure does look like capacity for both shows, as the advance sale has started off lively. Seats now selling.

"The Blue Paradise."

Upon the occasion of the forthcoming engagement of "The Blue Paradise" which the Messrs. Shubert announce for the Auditorium theatre on next Thursday evening, this brilliant and beautiful Viennese operetta will be interpreted by one of the most extensive and carefully chosen organizations sent on tour in a musical entertainment in recent seasons. The cast, numbering almost 100 persons, includes such well-known favorites as Paul Nicholson, Miss Norton, Charles Powers, Gypsy Dale, Gustav Baci, Juliette Lange, Robert Lee Allen and Charles Derickson. In addition to the principals there is a chorus of Broadway beauties who, besides merely adding to the pictorial embellishment of the operetta, can sing and dance. "The Blue Paradise" company also carries its own special orchestra.

The story of this entertainment, which comes here directly following a remarkable run of one entire year in New York is told in a prologue and two. The opening scene shows the famous Blue Paradise Inn on the outskirts of Vienna. Here Rudolph Stoeger is giving a farewell party to his three college friends and his secret sweetheart, Mizzi, the flower girl at the inn, prior to his departure for America. Twenty-four years later having attained riches and renown in the New World, he returns to Vienna to find her married and with a daughter, Gaby, who is the living image of the Mizzi he had loved in his youth. "The Blue Paradise" teems with irresistibly tuneful music and one of the songs, "Auf Wiedersehn," is already popular wherever pianos or phonographs are played. Mail orders now, seat sale next Tuesday a. m.

Mme. Petrova.

Mme. Petrova, noted screen star will be seen in "The Black Butterfly," a five part wonderplay at The Auditorium Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. As an added feature a style show will be given and real live models will be used to display latest spring styles.

Mrs. Vernon Castle.

Mrs. Vernon Castle, star of the International photoplay serial released by Pathé under the attractive title of "Patria," is the originator and creator of more separate and distinct feminine fashions than any other living woman. She has some interesting things to say about the well dressed woman to which the devotees of fashion may well give heed. In a recent interview, Mrs. Castle, who will be seen at the Auditorium theatre soon, in "Patria," said: "The woman who wants to be well dressed, and this is the natural desire of every woman, must first of all learn to be honest with herself. She must see herself as she is and not as she would like to be. If she is short and broad she must imagine herself tall and thin and vice versa. If she is angular and broad she must not think herself plump and rounded. And then having seen herself honestly as in a looking glass, she should dress in a manner suitable to her own peculiar style. She must not fall in love with a vogue and adopt it regardless of whether or not it is suitable."

ALHAMBRA.

Sunday.

Lone Star: a young Indian lad, after seeing his mother die under the administrations of the tribe's medicine man, decides that he will go out and seek the white man's civilization and use it to relieve his brothers from the superstitions. With the aid of a reservation agent the young lad is sent to an Indian school. He works himself into college and graduates with high honors as a surgeon.

Monday and Tuesday.

The thrilling fall of the aeroplane in the Lask-Paramount production "On Record" which will be seen at the Alhambra on Monday and Tuesday with Mae Murray in the stellar role, was not made by an experienced aviator but by one of the students of a local aviation school near Los Angeles. Hearing that the services of a professional aviator were required to make this sudden drop, a young man who represented himself to be a professional aviator, made the drop in a most thrilling manner.

GEM.

That charity should indeed begin at home will be demonstrated in the unfolding of the photoplay-plot at the Gem theatre on Next Friday under the title of "Gloriana." Zoe Roe, a little miss hardly into her "teens," will be the leading lady and she will be supported and surrounded by a talented company of Bluebird photoplayers. This feature should appeal particularly to the women and children, because of the fact that a little girl tells most of the story and has twenty-five other clever children to work out, with her, some of the important episodes.

BICYCLE RIDING.

Newspaper reports have it that the bicycle is to become popular again this year. Perhaps so, although the hills up which you have to push are just as high as ever, the roads just as hot and sunny—though many of them are not so rough.

The young men of twenty years ago who owned bicycles have now in a great measure bought automobiles. Their sons, if of the same athletic type, have probably bought motorcycles. The boys never expend more leg muscle than is necessary to accomplish their ends. While the motorcycle racks the old lady's nerves and keeps the whole countryside clamorous, the youngsters enjoy the pleasurable racket.

One well remembers the pages of bicycle advertising the magazines once carried. They set forth how weak and invalid indoor workers could recover health on the fascinating wheel. It made country life possible, as the man and the worker could live in the suburbs and wheel in to work. Nothing was said about dust, rain or winter weather. Men of very slender physical ability would take their fifty-mile or even century runs. They returned thoroughly exhausted, but enjoyed it. Usually they sold their wheels, after a few years of it.

It was phenomenal also what the girls could do. They went foot slogging around piazzas long when their brothers and sweethearts were away. The most amazing distance feats were accomplished by slight feminine creatures who previously had handled nothing more athletic than an embroidery needle.

The bicycle is tremendously useful today for working people, and many a business man finds it the easiest way to get around to his customers if these are located in a limited area. Every school house has its row of juvenile sizes. Many grown-ups would find it still an exceedingly health-giving recreation if indulged in moderation. But present day sentiment favors the cushions of an automobile, and it wants the wider radius given by the gasoline motor.

PEACE AT ANY PRICE.

That Jesus was not a pacifist is the gist of the following quotation from an article in the April American Magazine entitled "My Silent Partner," which gives a new interpretation to the life of Christ as applied to modern problems:

"He went down to Jerusalem at the very beginning of his public work, and all the way along the road he heard the complaints of the peasants about the exactions and oppression of the priests. When he finally reached the city his temper was pretty well aroused. He strode into that temple and stood like a young giant among that noisy crowd of traffickers. He saw the poor come timidly forward and drive their bitter bargains with the priests; his blood boiled. He stooped down and picked up some bits of cord that lay at his feet, and while he watched he half unconsciously braided them into a whip.

"Then suddenly he strode forward into that wrangling crowd of petty thieves, and began hurling their counters to the floor. One after the other, he flung their tables and chairs before him; he opened the cages where the doves were kept; he turned their oxen loose upon them. The thieves dropped back amazed; the crowd, quick to sense the situation, flung themselves eagerly at his back. And so, his eyes flashing fire, his little whip rising and falling across the backs of the skulking crew before him, he drove them forward, through the court, under the gates, out in the city streets. Single-handed, unknown, without reputation or authority, he had attacked the stronghold of special privilege, and won. The temple had been swept clean."

tions, and threatened by none. They court, they crave, our friendship." This speech is dated January 10, 1917. Let's see—how many days was that before the receipt of Germany's note announcing the withdrawal of her submarine pledges—pledges given to the President of the United States? And how many days before the President gave a German ambassador his passport for the first time in the history of the United States?

The exact number of days doesn't matter. The essential point is that "we are at peace with the nations," and that "they court, they crave, our friendship."

Spirit of the Press

Congressional Vacancies.
Congressman Mann did a generous thing in urging Governor Whitman to call a special election of a successor to Mr. Conry in time for him to take part in the organization of the House, although Mr. Mann's chances of being elected Speaker were perceptibly improved by a vacancy from a Democratic district. Since then Mr. Sulloway, Republican, has died, leaving a relative strength of the two parties just where it was before Mr. Conry died. But Speaker Clark is as chivalrous as the Republican leader, and he is endeavoring to procure the election of Mr. Sulloway's successor prior to the organization of the House. It is not altogether certain that a Republican will be chosen to fill the New Hampshire vacancy.—Philadelphia Record.

Hardships Are Useful.

It is only natural that we do not like to look for trouble; human nature in general likes easy living and smooth roads, and no man, if his personal feelings were consulted, would go out of his way to gain a personal acquaintance with the hard side of life. Yet it is the hard side of life, with all its difficulties and all its sacrifices, with all its wounds that leave eternal scars and with all its burdens that may not be unloaded, that kindles the light of understanding in our brains and makes us see things as they are in fact.—Charleston News and Courier.

Taking No Chances.

Caution comes within that familiar rule founded on an ounce of prevention and pound of cure, which justifies the action taken by the railway officials in part of the country to guard against disaster by bridges and tunnels "by accident" or otherwise. Whether rumors that spies troop among us in hordes are minimized or exaggerated, the sense of safety leaves nothing to be presumed.—Salt Lake Herald-Republican.

Guns the Surest Safeguard.

Even now, however, the British government admits that its most effective means of defense is the armament of merchantmen. The trawlers and nets and mines cannot be effective in the open sea, and while the big liners are being equipped with a new apparatus which sends forth dense clouds of chemical smoke, hiding the vessel for a distance of five miles, guns mounted fore and aft are still the surest means of protection.—Washington Post.

Pointed Paragraphs

Uncle Ike Sherwood will let the question of his retirement from Congress be decided at the regular referendum in 1918.—St. Louis Globe Democrat.

We are not surprised to hear that Villa has double pneumonia. But if it wants to kill him it had better be tripped.—Dallas News.

The silver lining in the filibuster cloud is the fact that Messrs. La Follette, Cummins and Stone are effectually disposed of so far as the 1920 nominations are concerned.—Indianapolis Star.

At present there may be no way to compel Senator Stone to resign his chairmanship, but in case of war there will be no objection to insuring him a safe passage.—Indianapolis News.

There is a Dumba-like touch to the Austrian note which suggests that it is not to be taken seriously.—Washington Post.

Some of the fantastic plotting suggests that spies have overworked themselves in "seeing things."—Washington Star.

Next in order will probably be an investigation by the Kaiser into the leak of the Zimmermann note.—Minneapolis Tribune.

Perhaps no form of human folly pays less satisfactorily in the long run than representing oneself as single when not.—Ohio State Journal.

The young thing who a few years ago "favored with a solo" now has a daughter who "contributes a group of songs."—Pittsburgh Gazette Times.

Next to Bernstorff, Senator Stone seems to be the most popular man in Germany today. Is this not an injustice to La Follette?—Columbus Dispatch.

THE WHOLE BODY

NEEDS PURE BLOOD

The bones, the muscles, and all the organs of the body depend for their strength and tone and healthy action on pure food.

If the blood is very impure, the bones become diseased; the muscles become enfeebled; the skin loses its elasticity, and there is inability to perform the usual amount of labor. The skin loses its clearness, and pimples, blotches and other eruptions appear.

Hood's Sarsaparilla makes pure blood. It is positively unequalled in the treatment of scrofula and other humors, catarrh, rheumatism, dyspepsia, loss of appetite, that tired feeling. Be sure to get Hood's and get it today. All druggists.—Advertisement.

ADVERTISERS GET BUSY FOR DRESS UP WEEK

To Newark Advertisers: You are requested to insert liners or panels in newspaper advertisements, calling attention to Newark's "Spring Dress-Up," March 23-31, thereby doing part to make this big event a success. Each merchant must do his or her part.

Do not delay, but begin at once to plan your window and interior decorations. One of the principal reasons for not producing beautiful and attractive merchandise displays is that you do not give yourself enough time to prepare and carry out your ideas.

Let's get busy right away.

Remember, the people of Newark and Licking county expect your store or business place to be dressed up March 23-31, and they have a perfect right to look for your best efforts. You want them to buy your merchandise, then why not show them you are worthy of their business.

All merchants throughout the county are doing the very things we are asking you to do today. When you get dressed up you will feel proud of your business, the people will enjoy shopping at your store. When your merchandise is attractively displayed, they just can't help buying.

The old saying, "Goods well bought are half sold," has been changed through modern merchandising methods to, "Goods well displayed are half sold."

After your windows are trimmed and your interior merchandise displays placed, do not sit down and think your work is over. It has just begun. Get busy and tell the people what you have done, and what you have to offer.

There are plenty people all around you who are needing your goods. Almost every day some man, woman or child comes into your store and asks you for certain articles. Do not wait for them to ask you. Tell them long before, through your newspaper advertisements, so that when they come to shop, they know just what to ask for and then know that you have what they need.

Poor old Robinson Crusoe on his desert isle believed in advertising. He took his old tattered shirt and tied it to the mast of his shipwrecked vessel, not for one day, but day after day, and he came out all right.

Do not think when you have run one advertisement some day that that is all you will need. Stay right with it, day after day, just as old Robinson Crusoe did.

ADVERTISING COMMITTEE, "Spring Dress-Up" Campaign.

Widow on a Visit.

Aunt Caline says:—Parish Green's wife's cousin which is Will Grabbes' widdler, has come back to make a visit onto Parish for a indefinite period. Ima Green, which is Parish's wife, brings her over to the sewin' club Wednesday an' she entertained us all the afternoon with a recital of her woes an' such. They had had such a bad season, an' lost their crops, an' the foot an' the mouth disease had killed all the cattle, an' Will he up an' died, though she didn't say what he had— an' so on an' so on. At last she told of the offal cyclones which they heve out there, an' at last Gran'ma Sharpe which she is some plain spoke, says she, "I don't doubt you have had a hard time," says she, "but let me tell you suthin': you come down to my house an' live with Will B. Sharpe (which is her husband) for a week," she says, "an' at the end of that time," she says, "you will go back to Kansas an' welcome that there cyclone with open arms," she says.

Did You Know

That the name "syringa" as applied to the mock-orange is improperly applied? The syringa is a genus of plants of the olive family and its English name is "lilac," derived from "Hilag," the Persian for flower. The syringa vulgaris, or common lilac, is a native of Persia, Hungary and the borders of the Danube. It is one of the few shrubs not injured by the smoke of cities and it flourishes in perfection in most of the setwaters of London.

THE ADVOCATE'S MELTING POT

Conversation should be pleasant without scurrility, witty without indecency, learned without conceit, novel without falsehood.—Shakespeare.

Things are getting better as the loving season of the year approaches. Saturday only sixteen divorces were granted in Houston and only eight divorce suits were filed. Besides, there were ten marriages.—George Bailey in Houston Post.

It looks as though they were gradually working around to the point where there will be neither marriage nor giving in marriage in Texas, and we suppose it is only another deplorable result of their mistaken zeal in trying to make a heaven of this state.

A smart young man is Oswald Klett. He's clever and he's bright. We know he is left-handed, yet he always does things right.—Luke McLuke

Then take the case of Elmer Coad. He's poor as Samuel Hill. And though the man is pigeon-toed, he never has a bill.

Aunt Caline says:—Parish Green's wife's cousin which is Will Grabbes' widdler, has come back to make a visit onto Parish for a indefinite period. Ima Green, which is Parish's wife, brings her over to the sewin' club Wednesday an' she entertained us all the afternoon with a recital of her woes an' such. They had had such a bad season, an' lost their crops, an' the foot an' the mouth disease had killed all the cattle, an' Will he up an' died, though she didn't say what he had— an' so on an' so on. At last she told of the offal cyclones which they heve out there, an' at last Gran'ma Sharpe which she is some plain spoke, says she, "I don't doubt you have had a hard time," says she, "but let me tell you suthin': you come down to my house an' live with Will B. Sharpe (which is her husband) for a week," she says, "an' at the end of that time," she says, "you will go back to Kansas an' welcome that there cyclone with open arms," she says.

The New GOSSARD CORSETS for Spring

WHILE retaining all those qualities that have characterized and famed Gossard corsets in past seasons, they strike a new note in corsetry—a subtle change that is reflected in a more delicately beautiful outline and in an even more graceful flat back. Youth is the keynote in the style of these new Gossard models.

This is the Thirty-second Announcement and Proclamation of Gossard Corset Styles for Spring and Summer, 1917

The new models vary in height of bust and length of skirt—as they should—to meet the individual requirements of the various figure types, but the general tendency is toward less corset, lower bust and shorter skirts with a smaller waistline indicated by skillful designing rather than actually expressed.

Be fitted today to one of the many models designed for your figure type at $2.00, $2.50, $3.50, $4.25, $5.00 and up. An expert corsetier who understands your corset problems will deem it a pleasure to fit you without obligation.

[Special to The Advocate]

Granville, March 17.—Despite the heavy showers last evening, the Opera House was packed to the doors with children and friends of the public school all eager to witness the elaborate and beautiful operetta, "Midsummer Eve," as staged by the girls and boys of the school under the efficient direction of their teachers. The Granville High school band opened the program.

The second part of the program was devoted to a one-act farce, "Six Cups of Chocolate," given by seven girls. The exercises closed with the presentation of an American Flag by Mrs. E. P. Cook, regent of the Granville Chapter of the D. A. R. to the winner in the Freshman-Sophomore Essay contest. The flag was accepted by Miss Elizabeth Chambers of the Sophomore class. KREAMOL SHAMPOO

Men and women, also the "kiddies" will find it a pleasant, beneficial method of cleaning the scalp and hair.

KREAMOL not only removes the dust, dirt and dandruff but brings out the life and lustre of the hair—keeps it soft, fresh and healthy in appearance.

Mrs. Frank Thornton, Athens, Ohio, writes:—"Your Kreamol Shampoo gives entire satisfaction. It removes dandruff and gives a gloss to the hair, that other kinds of shampoo does not give. After using it my friends remarked: 'What a pretty gloss your hair has, and I answered: 'Kreamol Shampoo has done that.'"

Mrs. J. M. Fenton, Swanton, Ohio, writes:—"Your Kreamol Shampoo is the finest I have ever used. It left my hair soft and silky and made it easy to put up. It is easy to wash one's hair with Kreamol."

Mrs. Daisy Isom, Bloomington, Ind., writes:—"I will never be without Kreamol Shampoo again. It is a necessity. For cleaning the hair and scalp, your Kreamol is unequalled. I can and certainly will recommend it to my friends."

Mrs. J. E. Kincaid, Helena, Ga., writes:—"I have found your Kreamol Shampoo to be the most wonderful shampoo I have ever used, and I have tried a great many different kinds. It stops falling hair, cleans the hair and scalp, prevents dandruff and gives the hair a luxuriant appearance. I wish everyone might know of this wonderful shampoo."

Mrs. Elsie Stannette, Welcottville, Ind., writes:—"I am more than pleased with your Shampoo. It cleans the scalp and removes dandruff. It also leaves the hair in a nice condition. I think it is far superior to any that I have ever used in the way of a shampoo. If people will once use Kreamol, they will have nothing else."

NEVER USE A CHEAP, ORDINARY SOAP TO WASH YOUR HAIR. Such soap is likely to contain too much alkali and will dry the scalp and is liable to make the hair hard and brittle.

You can get KREAMOL at any drug store. A 50 cent bottle should last a family many weeks. Get a bottle of Kreamol today and try it. YOU WILL BE MORE THAN PLEASED.

Mrs. P. C. Glickner, Lamar, Mo., writes:—"I have been using Kreamol Shampoo and can certainly recommend its use to remove dandruff and prevent falling hair. It leaves the hair clean and sweet when through washing."

Mrs. H. B. Rice, Centro, Gordo, Ill., writes:—"We find Kreamol Shampoo the greatest. Kreamol we have ever used. It is so nice for the scalp and we hope that we will always be able to obtain it."

Mrs. A. R. Spencer, Munfordville, Ky., writes:—"Your Kreamol Shampoo is very satisfactory. It has almost stopped my hair from falling and the itching of the scalp has been very much relieved."

Mrs. W. C. Deasy, Portland, Tenn., writes:—"I feel safe in saying that your Kreamol is the best preparation I have ever used for cleaning the hair and scalp. I certainly will recommend it to my friends."

Mrs. L. J. Draeger, Silver Creek, N. Y., writes:—"I think Kreamol is the best Shampoo I have ever used. It is certainly wonderful the way in which it removes dandruff. Will never be without it."

Miss Gladys Le Master, Kokomo, Ind., writes:—"Your Kreamol Shampoo is all that you recommend it to be. I have used it several times and the dandruff is nearly all gone and it is fine for the hair. Will surely recommend it to my friends and hope I shall never have to be without it."

Kreamol is sold at Evans' Drug Store (Warden Hotel Block), Newark, Ohio, and Ullman's Drug Store, Granville, Ohio.

What Ohio Club Women Are Doing

Mrs. Prentice E. Rood, Director of Press.

The Southeast district convention held at Martins Ferry, February 20 and 21, was well attended by representatives of clubs from Athens, Bellaire, Cambridge, Columbus, Lancaster, Mt. Pleasant, Mt. Sterling, Shadyside, St. Clairsville, Steubenville and the hostess city Martins Ferry.

The meetings were presided over by the district vice-president, Mrs. Ernest T. Johnson of Newark.

A brilliant reception in honor of the visiting officers and delegates was given at the home of Mrs. John M. Henderson on Tuesday evening. Musical numbers were given during the evening by members of the Lecture-Recital club. This club also had charge of a charming musicals the evening of the 21st.

The regular sessions were held on Wednesday in the First Presbyterian church. Addresses of welcome were given by Mrs. Charles Updegraff, representing the Woman's club, and Miss Mayme Morgan of the Lecture-Recital club. Mrs. George Zimmerman, the state president, responded on behalf of the visiting women, and emphasized the advantages of the enthusiasm and personal acquaintance with club women of the district. Mrs. L. J. C. Drennen read an original poem which was enthusiastically received.

The afternoon session opened with an organ selection by Miss Grace Neilly, after which Miss Genevieve Cline of Cleveland, made an earnest appeal for the Red Cross work, offering to assist in the organization of a chapter.

The lecture by Professor Edwin W. Chubb, dean of the Ohio University at Athens, was the attraction of the afternoon. His subject, "Shakespeare as a Moral Teacher," commanded the appreciative attention of a large audience.

Win This Prize. Mrs. Martha Poole, Crowe, 30 East 127 street, New York, advisor on Pottery in the General Federation Department of Literature, has secured a promise of $100 as a prize for the best poem written by a member of a federated club and offered to the judge before July 1.

Club President Honored. Miss Louise M. Edwards, for 25 years president of the Friday afternoon club of Youngstown, was the honored guest at a luncheon recently and received as a token of the club's love and appreciation a beautiful silver dish appropriately inscribed.

Club Notes. The Tuesday club of Wauseon is conducting a series of teas for the benefit of a hospital fund. It is this organization's purpose to equip and maintain a room in the city hospital. The club sent a large box of magazines to Marysville, and conducted a sale for the Blind commission.

Bellefontaine city federation is a very much alive organization. During the past six months it has raised $200 which they gave to the school board to install Domestic Science and Manual Training in the public schools. For three summers the Cline of Cleveland, made an earnest appeal for the Red Cross work, offering to assist in the organization of a chapter.

The Original Club of Monroeville has paid its scholarship assessment in full, and is one of the first to follow the suggestion that each club

No more stiff and sore joints. You have no idea what your treatment has done for me. It certainly has prolonged my life and made a new woman of me. O, such a blessing I have received through your kindness, Doctor, and the assistance of the medicine which you so kindly prescribed. I am able to work since I began your treatment, but before I was not able to help myself, much less work for any one else. All praise is due to your medical department and treatment.

Those who object to liquid medicines can now procure Peruna Tablets.

Ohio, it is illegal for any person, firm or corporation, to refill for de-have complied with certain legal requirements. These requirements are, that the owner shall have relumbus, and with the Clerk of Court of Licking County, and caused such name, mark or device to be blown in lished in a local paper.

The Licking Creamery Company has long since complied with the above requirements for registration.
The device of this Company is blown upon their bottles.

Recently it has been called to our attention that in a number of instances, individuals for private use and also distributors of milk, have been using our bottles in direct violation of the law. A penalty is provided of a fine for the first offense, and for repeated offenses a heavier fine, or imprisonment. The particulars of this law are contained in Sec. 13169 and following Sections of the General Code of Ohio.

We hereby call this law to the attention of all persons who have been using our bottles, in the hope that they may desist from this practice, and that we may not be forced to use stronger measures.

the will of Henry H. Schneider, late of Licking county, Ohio. Dated this 14th day of March, 1917.

ROBERTS HUNTER,
Probate Judge.

The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company

Office of the President,
Baltimore, Md., March 15, 1917.

To All Officers and Employees:

It has been broadly stated in the press for several days past that 6:00 p. m. on Saturday, March 17, 1917, all locomotive engineers, firemen, train conductors and brakemen on a number of important railroad systems, including the Baltimore and Ohio, will stop work in a body unless otherwise ordered; in other words, go on strike.

Such action under any circumstances would be a serious menace to the public welfare, and I am unwilling to believe that the rumors are well founded, at least so far as Baltimore and Ohio employees are concerned. In any event, if such action is even under contemplation it seems to me only fair to the men in the service of this company that I should state the situation clearly as it is understood by me.

On September 2, 1916, the Congress of the United States passed the so-called Adamson Eight-Hour Law, to become effective on January 1, 1917. This act, as you know, was hastily prepared, was indefinite in its terms, and in addition to this, many able lawyers and others felt that the law itself was unconstitutional, consequently the Supreme Court was asked to say first whether the law was constitutional or not, and second, if constitutional, how it should be interpreted and applied.

The case was argued before the Supreme Court on January 8, 9 and 10, 1917. Pending a decision of the case the railroads were instructed to keep their records of the time worked by the various employees affected by the law, so that whatever final conclusion might be reached concerning the law the men should receive the full benefit from the date when the law was to become effective, that is to say, January 1, 1917.

The Baltimore and Ohio Company is so keeping the time of all of its employees affected, and if the law is declared constitutional it expects to pay, and will pay by special voucher, the increased wages due any employee since January 1, 1917.

The Baltimore and Ohio Company offered last summer, when this matter was under discussion, and again proposes that if the law is found to be unconstitutional, to have all matters in this controversy submitted to arbitration before a board of arbitrators to be chosen by the President of the United States.

Certainly no fairer proposition was ever submitted by any company to its employees. No fairer proposition can be submitted. To go further than the Baltimore and Ohio Company is willing to go, would simply be yielding to force and not to the spirit of fair dealing.

It is not necessary that Baltimore and Ohio employees should strike in order to obtain fair treatment, either in this or any other case. This controversy can be settled in an orderly way and settled fairly, and it should be kept in mind that the question submitted to the Supreme Court was a very complicated and important one, and furthermore there were other cases before the Court which had to be decided in proper order, and no one, I am sure, would wish to have this matter passed upon hastily or incompletely by such an important tribunal as the Supreme Court of the United States.

It has been stated that the employees on some of the other lines will not be affected by the strike order. Is this because they are more loyal to their employers or are they more patriotic citizens than the employees of the Baltimore and Ohio Company? I cannot believe that such is the case.

I cannot believe, nor will I believe, that Baltimore and Ohio employees will without cause take hasty, unwarranted and unnecessary action, the direct effect of which will be to bring great inconvenience, if not real distress, to large numbers, and which might and probably would do great and unforeseen harm in other directions.

I hope it will never be said that Baltimore and Ohio employees, in a time like this, took action which gave satisfaction, aid and comfort to those opposed to the welfare of the United States.

DANIEL WILLARD,
President.

UNIVERSALISTS PREFER BELIEVING IN CHRIST

"Universalists believe in the universal Fatherhood of God and thus doctrine includes the universal brotherhood of man," said Rev. J.
W. Grimmer of Belleville last night in a sermon on "What is Universalism" at the mission in the convention room of the court house.
"We believe in and try to follow Jesus Christ. We insist however, that it is more important to believe in Jesus and his program than to recite a creed about him and speculate on his origin. We believe the Bible is the greatest inspirational literature ever given to the world.
We believe in the certainty of just punishment for sin, but not endless for that would not be just. We believe in the final salvation of every human soul because we believe it is God's will."
